

Redomiciliation of companies

Possibility to move foreign companies to Malta without the need to wind up operations

- Malta legislation allows redomiciliation of foreign companies to Malta and vice-versa
- Foreign entity retains its legal personality and most importantly will not disrupt its business activities
- Simple initial redomiciliation procedure, requiring the foreign company to place a request to the Malta Registrar of Companies
- A Provisional Certificate of Continuation is issued upon receipt of the request mentioned earlier
- Within six months, the foreign company must submit documentary evidence to the Registrar that it has ceased to be a company registered in the jurisdiction where it was previously incorporated, and upon receipt of this documentary evidence, the Registrar shall issue a Certificate of Continuation
- The company becomes domiciled and resident in Malta for Income Tax purposes and is therefore eligible for the tax benefits applicable for any Maltese company
- No tax or other levy is charged during the redomiciliation process of the company to Malta
